TRAUMA PATIENT

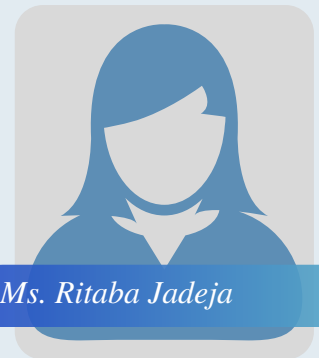

A 28-year-old male patient sustained a right tibia fracture in a road traffic accident. He was admitted to Kutch's Hospital for 2–3 days, where he developed 360° circumferential necrosis of the skin and underlying muscle of the right lower leg below the knee. He was then transferred to AHCH, where 3–4 surgical interventions including debridement and reconstructive procedures, were performed. Postoperative recovery was favorable and the patient regained functional use of the limb, now ambulatory and walking independently.

Mr. Sandeep Maheshwari

MULTI-ORGAN FAILURE PATIENT

A 40-year-old female with severe rheumatic heart disease and major right-sided stroke was initially advised end-of-life care elsewhere. She was brought to AHCH in critical condition with multi-organ failure, sepsis, and poor heart–lung reserve. The patient required prolonged ICU stay with intensive management.

She faced multiple complex complications but gradually stabilized. With aggressive neuro-rehabilitation, she recovered well and was discharged home walking.

Ms. Ritaba Jadeja

PULMONARY EMBOLISM PATIENT

A 27-year-old young female with obesity presented to AHCH emergency with severe breathing difficulty after ignoring symptoms for 5–7 days. On arrival, her oxygen level was only 80% and evaluation showed high pressure on the right side of the heart. An urgent CT scan revealed a massive pulmonary embolism (large clot in lung vessels). She was immediately treated with life-saving thrombolysis injection. Within 24 hours, her breathing improved significantly—timely intervention prevented a fatal outcome.

Ms. Kajalben Parmar

Mental Wellbeing Department

The following young clients are examples of the Psychology department's contributions, achieving noticeable emotional and behavioural improvements through homeopathy and psychotherapy.

Patient 1

A 6-year old girl, once gripped by fear of her mother's death after witnessing a disturbing movie scene, overcame it through a short homeopathy course and brief supportive counselling.

Patient 2

A 12-year old boy struggling with anger and focus after his parents' separation now channels his energy toward achieving his goals. He feels happier, more focused, and even contributes to departmental projects in his free time.

Dental Department

Patient had a 3mm open bite with no tooth contact and couldn't chew for years. Through conservative bite adjustments (without crowns or full mouth replacement), normal chewing was restored. Patient shared: "After so many years, I finally ate properly and learned what chewing really is!"
